Dear Amy,

My name is Victorine, a Software developer from Kenya. I am writing to apply for the position of software development internship at SovTech. I am particularly drawn by the groundbreaking work SovTech has done in terms of delivering cutting-edge software solutions for businesses.

My education has provided me with a variety of practical programming skills. I have currently embarked on an ambitious project that will revolutionize how young women access sanitary towels. It's an automated pad dispenser that uses microcontrollers and MDB protocols to communicate with the vending machine's components.

I believe that an opportunity to work with your team of engineers and contribute to creating meaningful software will give me a chance to take part in globalization technology and solve society's biggest challenges.

Feel free to contact me at +254791846426 at your earliest convenience. I appreciate your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
Victorine Amani.
